

Relevant offences for England and Wales

This is intended as general guidance only. It is not legal advice and must not be regarded as a definitive interpretation of the legislation.

Please read the relevant statutory instruments set out below and if in doubt should seek legal advice.

Background

A person who accepts a caution or receives a conviction for a 'relevant offence' for the purposes of the legislation below, will, subject to the consideration of representations where permitted, be automatically barred from working in regulated activity with children and/or vulnerable groups. (The consideration of representations may result in a decision not to bar a person).

Relevant offences are commonly referred to as autobar offences, but may be referred to in correspondence provided to a person by the DBS as either automatic barring offences (those which do not enable the person to make representations), or automatic inclusion offences (those which require the DBS to enable the person to make representations).

Relevant Offences are set out in this guide and are defined in the following Statutory Instruments:

- Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 (Prescribed Criteria and Miscellaneous Provisions) Regulations Act 2009 (SI.2009 No.37) (as amended)

Amendments to the list of offences have been made by the following Regulations:

- Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 (Controlled Activity and Miscellaneous Provisions) Regulations 2010 (SI.2010 No. 1146)

And

- Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 (Controlled Activity and Prescribed Criteria) Regulations 2012 (SI. 2012 No. 2160)

Automatic bars with representations

For automatic inclusion offences with the right to make representations, the DBS now seeks and considers any representations prior to making a decision as to whether a person should be included in a barred list.

Test for Regulated Activity

Under changes to legislation introduced on 10 September 2012, the DBS can only bar a person who is or has been, or may in the future be, engaged in regulated activity with children and/or vulnerable adults. Without this connection to regulated activity the DBS is unable to place a person in a barred list. This is called the Test for Regulated Activity.

The exception to the test for regulated activity is in relation to ‘automatic barring without representations’ cases, where the bar will apply to the person irrespective of whether they have worked or may in future work in regulated activity with children and/or vulnerable adults.

Relevant (automatic barring) offences

Autobar offences for the purposes of barring in England and Wales, a caution or conviction for one of these offences (committed in the relevant circumstance as outlined in the above regulations) will or may (subject to representations where permitted), result in being added to one of the barred lists.

Although this table is correct at the time of publishing, changes can be made. You should be aware that reference should always be made to the legislation as this guide may not always have captured any changes.
